

TUNING IN

Unleashing Creativity

○ Connect with your inspiration, command your energy, think in new ways and effect change!

Every business success depends upon the ability to create.

TUNING IN is a day of discovery and learning that provides leaders with the tools they need to unleash and inspire breakthrough creativity.

Through coaching, individual and group exercises, you will learn how to pinpoint and connect with those things that ignite your creative energy. This type of inspiration produces more than just creative thinking. Clarity, vision, creative leadership and work/life balance all become possible—allowing you better business results, as well as the personal satisfaction that will keep you inspired.

Drawing from her management background and leadership coaching practice, Karen Beckman, President and owner of Empowerment Toolbox, developed this unique workshop to support women as they face today's leadership and life challenges. TUNING IN is for executives, business owners and leaders of all kinds who want to leverage the power of their own creativity to enhance their professional and personal lives.

Karen Beckman spent fifteen years in senior management positions before becoming a certified Professional Coach and founding Empowerment Toolbox LLC in 1998 (www.empowermenttoolbox.com). She has spent the past six years managing her company and successfully coaching entrepreneurs and leaders from various Fortune 500 companies including Avaya, Pfizer Pharmaceuticals, Viacom, Wachovia Corp, and PepsiCo.
